

Identified by Juliet Glutton-Brock, B.Sc., Ph.D.

- Galley Hill 3. Animal bone with Burial 14:
? small domestic ox - vertebra of juvenile animal.
- Galley Hill 3. With Robber Pit Burials:
Rabbit - femur of juvenile animal. (Rabbits are post-Norman in Britain)
? Domestic sheep or goat - fragment of mandible of juvenile animal without teeth.
- Galley Hill 3. With Lower Burial No. 3: Cervus elaphus - 1st phalanx. (Can be seen above right shoulder of skeleton in excavation photo.)
Domestic ox - upper molar.
Domestic sheep or goat - fragments of mandible with deciduous teeth.
- Galley Hill 3. Southern Quad. :
Small domestic ox - 2nd phalanx.
2 fragments of bone - not identifiable.
- Galley Hill 3, with L.G.S. 1 and 2:
Domestic ox - calcaneum of juvenile animal.
? Domestic ox - coronoid process of mandible.
Small fragment of bone, possibly fragment of tibia, - not identifiable.
- Galley Hill 3, With Burials 12, 13 and 14.
? Domestic ox - coronoid process of mandible.
Piece of flat bone, not identifiable.
- Galley Hill 3, With Burial 1 & 2 :
? Domestic ox - condyle of mandible, possibly from a juvenile animal.
Piece of flat bone - not identifiable.
- Galley Hill 3, with Burial 15:
Small fragment of bone, - possibly from a metapodial, not identifiable.
- Galley Hill 3, with Burial 9:
Rib of small artiodactyl. Not specifically identifiable but could be from a domestic pig, sheep or goat, or from a deer.