

A list of vertebrate skeletons in the reference collection of the Centre for Archaeology, Portsmouth

Elaine Corke¹, Simon Davis², Polydora Baker³ and Michael Revill³

Summary

This report lists the current holdings of vertebrate skeletons in the Centre for Archaeology (ex Ancient Monuments Laboratory), updating the list published four years ago (Corke, Davis and Payne, 1997). A total of 1997 specimens, of which 1438 are complete skeletons, includes 76 species of mammal, 182 species of bird, 4 species of reptile, 2 species of amphibian and 49 species of fish.

Introduction

The purposes of the reference collection of vertebrate skeletons in the Centre for Archaeology (ex AML) are a) to enable the identification and interpretation of animal remains from archaeological sites in England, and b) to provide comparative material for a long-term study of the development of the "traditional" British farmyard animals. Most specimens are from the British Isles, although a small number come from other parts of the Palaearctic.

This list, an updated version of Corke, Davis and Payne (1997), aims to provide a general and rapid guide to our holdings. It is intended for zoo-archaeologists and workers in other disciplines who may wish to consult our collection.

Collection policy

We continue to enlarge the collection and are very willing to exchange specimens - our list shows which taxa we lack and those which are well-represented.

The collection

All specimens in the collection are disarticulated. Most have been prepared by incubation in a solution of proteolytic enzyme (see Davis and Payne, 1992). The bulk of the collection is on open access in the Centre for Archaeology Zooarchaeology Laboratory. The table below gives an approximate breakdown of the numbers of specimens per species. Thus 28 species of mammals in our collection are represented by 10 or more specimens, whereas 96 species of bird and 30 species of fish are represented by 1 or 2 specimens only. A more detailed catalogue (held in the CfA) provides additional information, when available, for each specimen, including precise locality from which it came, criteria used to identify it, how and when it died, method of preparation, donor, and flock/field/ring number.

No. of specimens per species:

	1	2	3	4	5	6-9	10-20	>20	N _{ind}	N _{spp}
Mammals:	18	9	3	3	3	12	18	10	1149	76
Birds:	63	33	19	10	14	28	13	2	708	182
Reptiles:	4	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	4	4
Amphibia:	1	-	-	-	1	-	-	-	6	2
Fish:	20	10	8	4	3	3	1	-	130	49
total									1997	312

Key: N_{ind} = the number of individual specimens, N_{spp} = the number of species

The list

Nine categories of information are included under the following headings:

Family/Genus species. Taxonomy and order follow Corbet and Hill (1986) for mammals, Peterson et al. (1983) for birds, and Wheeler (1978) for fish.

English name.

Sex where known. c = castrate; f = female; m = male; zz = unknown

Age when known. Some of the laboratory and farm animals are aged to the nearest day or week. For fish the total length TL, in cms, is given when available. This is the distance between tip of snout and posterior edge of the caudal fin (see Wheeler and Jones, 1989 fig 13.1).

Comp. This column indicates approximately how complete the specimen is. Thus 1 = most or all bones and teeth are present, 2 = partial skeleton (includes the skull and a mandible, limb girdles, and one fore and one hind limb), 3 = skull and mandibles only, 4 = very incomplete, 5 = other. "c" refers to casts.

Breed. In this column breed, where known, is given for domestic animals, as is zoo-bred or laboratory-bred origin for wild species.

Locality. County, and island where relevant, are given for specimens from Britain, and country for specimens from overseas; greater detail is usually available.

CfA (ex AML) no. is the accession number.
